

BEND SPRING FESTIVAL

April 13-14, 2013, Northwest Crossing

Heralding the return of the light, renewal of the earth accompanying it and the kick off of the Festival season, this is held in the award winning Northwest Crossing Neighborhood (www.northwestcrossing.com) on Bend's West side. Named by Cottage Living Magazine one of the "Top Ten Cottage Neighborhoods in the Country," it is a thriving retail area, with close to access to road and mountain biking trails. It features original arts and crafts, live music, great food, wine and beer. Our "Conscious Living" area supports local businesses, including advice from OSU Master Gardeners. 2013 will see a focus on all things recycled.

23RD ANNUAL BEND SUMMER FESTIVAL

July 13-14, 2013, Downtown Bend

In it's 23rd year, our signature event draws artists and performers, along with the audience that appreciates and supports them, from throughout the Northwest. Featuring dance, fine arts and crafts, children's activities and the best regional and national blues, rock and jazz bolstered by a diverse food court of 20+ restaurants, a beer garden and a gourmet food & wine jazz street- it is a not to be missed tradition for more than 75,000 attendees. In a beautiful central location in Bend's charming downtown, adjacent to Drake Park and the cool breezes of the Deschutes River.

17TH ANNUAL BEND FALL FESTIVAL

October 5-6, 2013, Downtown Bend

Truly a Harvest Festival, this is a local favorite. Redolent of the turning of the season, lingering in the end of summer and preparing for the more interior life ahead, we present a showcase of art and craft perfect for early holiday shopping. On the intimate Local Music Stage and more robust Mainstage, music abounds and models display fine art on the The Artist Runway as well as highlighting the talent and innovation of regional artisan clothing, accessory and wearable art designers. The Harvest Area is the ideal venue for local harvest products and specialty foods, while the Family and Children's area invite delight and creativity with hayrides, pumpkin carving, painting and street performers. All supported by a seasonal food court, beer garden - it is October after all! - and wine from regional vintners.

MUNCH & MUSIC, FREE CONCERTS IN THE PARK 2013, Thursday Nights, Drake Park, Bend

For 22 years, this has been the favorite Thursday evening mainstay for Central Oregon. This award-winning series features: free Thursday night concerts from 5:30 - 9:30 pm, live music, 18 restaurants, and up to 8,000 central Oregonians and tourists wandering through the park and art vendor booths. 50 booth spaces available to crafters, non-original artists and imports. One booth fee covers you for all six nights.

HOLIDAY POP-UP SHOP

December 14-15, 2013, The Athletic Club of Bend

This year, the Athletic Club of Bend will be transformed into a winter holiday wonderland complete with Christmas trees, lights and flowers. The Holiday Pop-Up Shop will feature 60 artists, crafters and local businesses offering very unique holiday experiences and gifts for sale- perfect for last-minute shopping! This event will also feature a full bar with beer and wine tastings, and some tasty appetizers for all to enjoy. There will be local entertainment throughout the weekend, with live performances to capture the holiday spirit!
Original vendor booths are limited. 100 for spring, 175 for summer, and 150 for fall. Apply early to ensure consideration for placement.
